

Shah Returns Weeping, But Triumphant

By DON SCHWIND
TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The triumphant Shah of Iran returned from his capital city today to receive the emotion-packed homage of his followers.
Crowds jamming Tehran's Mehrabad Airport, wept openly as the 36-year-old monarch—a fugitive for a few days ago—stepped from his private plane that brought him from Baghdad, capital of neighboring Iraq. Tears came to his eyes, too.
Officials in ceremonial top hats and pin-striped trousers threw themselves on the ground to kiss his feet. Their hats rolled away on the ground unnoticed.
The small twin-engine plane, piloted by the Shah himself, made perfect landing on the airstrip, was escorted by 20 fighters from the Iraqi air force.
The Shah wore a uniform of an Iranian Imperial Guard, the members of the diplomatic corps before setting out on the 15-minute drive to the heart of the city.
There was nobody along the route to cheer him, however. Hundreds of soldiers had struggled since early morning to clear the x-mile route. Nearly an hour before the Shah's arrival, tanks locked main cross roads leading to the airport. Police radio cars were stationed every 300 yards along the road.
Takes Security Measures
The Shah had asked that the people be allowed to see and cheer him if they desired but security officials (Continued On Page 2)

COURT NOTES
LACK OF LIGHTS IN SQUARE HERE; DRIVER IS FINED

Stanley L. Whitehill, Chambersburg R. 3, had to pay a fine of $10 and costs after he was found guilty of reckless driving on Lincoln Square by the Adams County Court Friday afternoon.
But he was told that the "principal fault is the absence of traffic lights in Lincoln Square and until the Gettysburg Town Council sees fit to install traffic lights we will continue to have a very dangerous condition in the square and operators of cars going through the square should take this into consideration and exercise due care."
The court made that comment in imposing the sentence on Whitehill who was accused of reckless driving by borough police after he drove through the square and "cut off" the police car as it was attempting to proceed from Carlisle to Baltimore St. Police said that the police car had to pull sharply to the right to avoid being hit by Whitehill when the two cars met in the square.
Admits "Playing Horses"
Daniel P. Seymore, Hanover R. 4, charged with operating a motor vehicle too fast for conditions, was found innocent by the court following a hearing, and the costs were placed on the county.
Raphael Sanders, Hanover, told the court the reason he didn't stop for the reason he was a groom for racehorses was based on the fact that he not only liked to work with horses, he also liked to bet on them too well.
Sanders, at a non-support hearing before the court Friday afternoon told the judges: "What she says is right. I left for work in April as a groom for race horses. I was making $57 a week. And I was playing the horses. I thought I could make some money and send it home, but I kept putting it off and never did get around to sending anything."
Sanders said he had been promised a bright future by his employer, but felt he should get into some other line of work, "because I like to play the horses too much."
Must Pay $25 Weekly
Now employed as a truck driver, Sanders was ordered to pay $25 per week for the support of his wife and two children, pay the costs and enter into a bond of $500 on his own recognizance to guarantee the payment.
Robert N. Helm, Gardners R. 1, was directed to return to court next Saturday with a physician's report on his physical condition before an order is imposed in the non-support charge against him. He told the court at a hearing Friday that a nervous disorder prevented him from working at the present time.
A $12 per week support order against Roy W. Starliper, Mercersburg R. D., was continued following a hearing.
Case Continued
The "failure to support an indigent person" charge brought against Frank Alvin Emmons, E. Middle St.; Charles Thomas Emmons, Akron, O., and Donald J. Emmons, Binghamton, N. Y., was continued to September 21 following a hearing at which Frank Emmons, the only one of the three brothers in court, told the judges that his physical condition prevented his working sufficiently to "support myself, let alone my mother."
No order was entered in the non-support charge brought against Arthur Sager, New Oxford R. 2, after a hearing. Sager was directed however to pay the costs in the case.
Robert V. Myers, Hanover, was directed to pay $15 per week, pay the costs and enter into a bond for $500 following a non-support hearing.
The non-support case against Eugene Imler, McSherrystown, was continued to November.
The court allowed the discontinuance upon payment of costs of the divorce action brought by Almeda Frances (Oates) Miller against Donald Wayne Miller after the couple reported they had "amicably adjusted" their differences.
Court adjourned at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon until 11 o'clock this morning, in chambers. Trial of cases for the August term will begin Monday morning.

LAUNCH PLANS FOR MAMMOTH SPOOK PARADE HERE OCT. 28

Plans were launched Friday evening at a meeting of the Gettysburg Association of Clubs for a "mammoth" Halloween celebration in Gettysburg on Wednesday evening, October 28.
Invitations will go out to Gettysburg and Mt. St. Mary's Colleges, industries of the area, civic organizations, the Gettysburg Fire Company and the general public, young and old, to take part in the procession and compete for prizes.
Representatives of the Eagles, Elks, Moose and the Lentz and Dorsey-Stanton posts of the American Legion and their Auxiliaries met at the Moose home Friday evening as official sponsors of the Halloween event.
To Choose King, Queen
A King and Queen to reign over the celebration will be chosen by popular vote with votes to be cast at coin boxes to be placed in business places. The money secured through this contest will be added to the fund for parade prizes.
Horace L. Bender, secretary of the Eagles, was made chairman of the fund raising committee.
Categories for which prizes will be offered in the parade will be set up by a committee headed by Mrs. Clara Washington of the Dorsey-Stanton Auxiliary.
Out-of-Town Judges
Out-of-town judges will be secured with James S. Shenk, formed exalted ruler of the Elks in charge of the judges. It is expected that the panel of judges will include many of the state officers of the sponsoring organizations.
The judging, according to the preliminary plans, will take place at some downtown location and finally at the Recreation Park where the parade will conclude. The Rec Park was decided upon over the high school field used previously because of the additional space available and because this year's parade is expected to exceed in size any previous Halloween celebration here in recent years.
Sgt. Raymond Strohm, VFW coordinator, has been placed in charge of invitations. All of the high school bands in the county, the East Berlin community drum and bugle corps and the Emmitsburg band will be sent bids to take part in the parade here. Many Released Americans Are Too Ill To Rejoice PANMUNJOM (AP)—Hobbling and stretcher-borne American and Canadian soldiers, some still suffering from recent battle wounds, were liberated here today as the Reds made the first deliveries from three more North Korean stockades.
Many of the 94 American and 43 other non-Korean repatriates of the 18th daily exchange were white-faced, bandaged and too ill to rejoice, in grim contrast to the rollicking British Commonwealth and U. S. returnees of previous days.
An American Marine, Cpl. Steven E. Drummond, said some of the Americans came from Camp No. 9, near Kanggye. He said it held only men captured in the last five months of the war. This indicated they apparently still were recovering from battle wounds.
The rest of the 437 Allied repatriates came from two other camps, No. 6 near Pyoktong and No. 10 at Manpo.
300 South Koreans Freed
The Reds delivered 300 South Koreans in apparent good health, 23 British, 13 Canadians, 3 Australians, 2 Frenchmen, 1 Turk and 1 Colombian in addition to the 94 Americans.
The Communists said they would repatriate 150 Americans and 250 South Koreans Sunday. This would equal the largest group of Americans returned on a single day, and put the number of Americans returned over the halfway mark.
A report that captured Japanese-American soldiers from Hawaii and at least one U. S. officer were tortured by the Reds in an effort to

3 NEGOTIATORS ON SCHOOL LAND APPOINTED BY PLANNING UNIT

Arthur R. Buehler of Mt. Joy Twp. and Ray J. Kitzmiller of Gettysburg were appointed Friday evening to serve with Chairman Ralph W. Guise of the Planning Committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board in negotiating for the exchange of land with the National Park Service.
The Planning Committee was called into session Friday evening in the office of Swope, Brown and Swope, counsel for the jointure, for a review of procedures for the acquisition of 23 acres of land east of the high school building under provisions of a bill passed by Congress last month and signed by President Eisenhower.
To Appraise Both Tracts
The members of the working committee, Dr. Coleman and his assistant, Samuel G. Solenberger, met after the general committee session with the selection of three appraisers as one of their first considerations.
The appraisers will be asked for a "competent and impartial" valuation to be placed on the 23 acres the school district hopes to acquire and will also be asked to place a valuation on lands—not yet designated—which the Department of the Interior will accept in exchange for the land covered in the bill.
Under terms of the bill, the land to be secured by the government must be of "approximately equal value." In committee hearings on the bill, it was brought out that there is land the National Park Service would like to acquire and which is considered to be of greater historic value than the 23-acre tract it has been authorized to trade.
Final Action Up To Board
It was pointed out Friday evening that while the working committee of three has the power to go ahead with the selection of appraisers together with the Park representatives, final decision on the land deal will have to be made by the full joint board.
At Friday evening's meeting in addition to the members of the planning committee, Attorneys Swope and Brown and the two park officials were Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, superintendent of schools; Dr. R. D. Wickerham and Kenneth Reinhart Jr., president and secretary of the joint board, and Jacob G. Appier, member of the Gettysburg board who initiated the move to secure the government tract.
REDS PUBLICLY EXECUTED YOUNG YANK PRISONER
FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP)—An 18-year-old American soldier was publicly executed by the Reds while fellow American prisoners watched helplessly, two Americans liberated by the Communists declared today.
"They told this kid to run," said Sgt. Doyle L. Reedy of Chelsea, Okla. "He got about 12 feet when they shot him in the back six times."
The execution took place at the mining camp, notorious POW collection point in North Korea, on June 5, 1951.
"Three GIs dug a hole for him," said Pfc. Kenneth H. Connacher of Altoona, Pa. "Then the Chinese took him outside this schoolhouse where we all heard the charge read against him. His hands were tied behind him. Then the Chinks told him to run."
Accused Of Murder
The young prisoner was accused of shooting a Chinese just behind the front immediately after his capture, the two soldiers said.
Connacher, who said he won the boxing championship among prisoners of war in North Korea, tried three times to escape. He also attacked an American "progressive" who cooperated with the Reds, and he displayed rope scars on both arms, his thumbs and wrists and the mark of a rifle butt on his face—all received as punishment.
He spent 11 days in jail after his third escape attempt.
Tortured 11 Days
"They tied my wrists and thumbs together behind my back and tied my arms just below my shoulder," he said. Then they put a choker around his neck and tied (Continued on Page 2)

MOROCCANS GREET NEW SULTAN TODAY

By TOM MASTERSON
RABAT, Morocco (AP) — White-robed tribal, chiefs and Moslem religious leaders gathered in this sun-drenched Moroccan capital city today to greet Morocco's new French-backed ruler, Moulay Mohammed Ben Araf.

The 64-year-old candidate for the hill country Berbers was proclaimed Sultan yesterday after the French dethroned his cousin, former Sultan Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, and sent him into exile on Corsica.

French officials would not say whether the new Sultan would parade through the streets to the imperial palace after his special train gets in from Marrakech.

Fear Rioting
It still was feared the bold decision to switch rulers might bring rioting among followers of the rival chiefs.

Strong French army and police forces held Rabat under tight military control. A curfew clamped on the city following Thursday's ouster of Ben Youssef has been lifted, however.

The Arab population remained quiet but glum, as if in mourning, although it was the period of the big religious feast Aid el Kebir and ordinarily would have been a time of rejoicing.

The loudest outcry so far against the forced exiling of the nationalist-minded Sultan, Morocco's spiritual leader and nominal ruler for 25 years, came from the Arab-Asian bloc in the United Nations. The 16-nation group decided yesterday in New York to ask for an urgent session of the U. N. Security Council to act against France's "unlawful" action.

YOUTH ADMITS SETTING FIRES

BORDENTOWN, N. J. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy was due to be arraigned today on a charge of setting six barn fires within 12 days in Burlington County.

State Police Lt. A. J. Waldinger said Lester Barton Lee yesterday admitted setting the fires so he could help save the farm machinery from the flames.

The police said the youth was arrested at the scene of the sixth fire yesterday, on the farm where he lives with his father. The farm on Hedding Rd. in nearby Columbus is owned by Isaiah G. Bryan. Bryan is clerk of the Municipal Court where Lee was scheduled to be arraigned on three of the arson charges. Police said Lee will be arraigned in Chesterfield and Springfield townships later on the other charges.

Shah Returns

officials insisted on clearing the route in an effort to cut the danger of an "incident" to a minimum. The happy monarch left Baghdad after hinting that ousted Premier Mohammed Mossadeq may face a treason trial and the death penalty.

His departure from the Iraqi capital and his arrival in Tehran were in sharp contrast to his hurried flight from his capital only last Sunday. Iraqi Crown Prince Abdul Ilah and high officials of the Baghdad government ceremoniously bade him farewell as his plane took off for the return journey. King Faisal, however, was reported ill and unable to attend the airport ceremony.

The Iranian ambassador to Baghdad and his staff also were absent. They had ignored the Shah when he arrived as a fugitive a few days ago.

Erase Political Slogans
Tehran appeared bright and shining as the Shah landed, with fresh coats of whitewash covering the accumulation of old political slogans on walls throughout the city. Green, white and red flags flapped from every vantage point and wooden triumphal arches bearing signs spelling out "welcome to our Shah" and "Long live the Shah-in-Shah" (emperor of emperors) spanned the road leading from the airport into the city.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — A strike at four plants of the Mack Manufacturing Co. in New Jersey and Pennsylvania has been averted by an agreement between the company and the CIO United Auto Workers.

The agreement provides for an increase in maximum pensions and cancels a recent cost of living wage reduction for the workers.

NEW PLAN FOR APPOINTING PA. COMPTROLLERS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new law signed by Gov. John S. Fine today gives him new powers to make direct appointments of comptrollers in all departments, commissions and agencies under his jurisdiction.

It removes this appointing right from heads of the departments and Atty. Gen. Robert E. Woodside said:

"By putting the department comptrollers beyond the control of the department heads, they will be in an independent position to check expenses without worrying about embarrassing the boss."

Companion Bill

He cited the possibility that some comptrollers may have overlooked items in a department head's personal expense account because they were fearful of being fired.

The governor will also have the power to name a state comptroller in his office to oversee the work of department comptrollers.

A companion bill signed by Fine will require all departmental requisitions for expenditures to be signed not only by the department head, but by the department comptroller.

Prevent Repeat Arrests

Other new laws signed by the governor will:

Bring regulations dealing with licensing of private detectives up to date.

Prohibit, under penalty of a $25 fine, the nailing of anything to a public utility pole, except by a public utility for its own purposes or by a municipality in erecting traffic signs.

Bar arrest more than once for failure to carry an automobile inspection sticker by requiring the first arresting officer to issue a ticket which may be used by the motorist in showing that he already has been arrested once.

Many Other Bills

Modernize a host of bulky regulations dealing with the operations of notaries public in Pennsylvania.

Restore to bus and truck firms the right to deduct from payment of the gross receipts tax on public utilities the amounts they pay in license fees and local excise taxes on their business.

Authorize the revenue department to act as guardian of funds of an inmate of a state mental hospital who does not have another guardian if the amount is less than $500.

Connacher said he spent 11 days without being untied or moved.

"There were several of us in there and they told us not to talk," he said. "A guard heard me talking and he smashed me in the face with his rifle butt."

"I worked over a progressive once," he said. "Then I got worked over by nine Chinese."

He said he had "cut up" the mouth of the progressive. The Chinese who beat Connacher hit him with their fists but did not knock him out.

Asked why he hit the progressive, Connacher said:

"He was a rat. He rattled on all of us. He won't be coming back. He wants to stay behind."

Asked if the progressive was remaining in North Korea because he was afraid of retaliation by other former prisoners, the young soldier said:

"You're right. He knows he'd get taken care of."

Connacher said 20 soldiers in Camp 1 chose to remain in North Korea—13 British and 7 Americans.

Riding with Russell

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL member S.A.E.

Probably those flying saucers would land except for the fact there's no place to park.

Something In The Wind

If traffic congestion becomes any worse don't be surprised if some enterprising car maker comes up with the feature of intermittent engine operation, a plan used by gas mileage marathon contestants. One straw in the wind is the adoption of 12-volt electrical systems by some of the leading American car manufacturers. If the user of a 12-volt system were as careful about keeping the battery charged as he is with his 6-volt system he would be able to use the starting motor abnormally. If any such plan for cutting down long periods of idling were adopted the hot re-start would be combined with automatic opening of the throttle valve so that the pistons would draw in more air. The thing would have to be taken more or less out of the driver's hands since his tendency always is to pump on the accelerator when trying to re-start a hot engine, and that is the wrong caper completely.

Changed The Ratio

It's just a detail but perhaps you haven't noticed that the car makers for this year have been advocating a little higher pressure for the front tires while cutting down slightly on rear tire pressures. This is designed to improve rear wheel traction when roads are slippery while at the same time guarding against front tire wear. It also helps steering, especially in parking.

Just A Reminder

Before my Car Care book went to press for the second printing I went over it again with a fine comb to see what changes would be needed to keep it abreast of the fast changing motor car. It proved to be a good investment personally because in the chapter on front-end alignment I reminded myself that one of the causes of weaving and wandering is underinflation. Checking with my own car which had developed a slight case of this steering annoyance I found that the two rear tires were not given sufficient pressure to take care of the heavier luggage load I carry in summer touring. This rear-end sagging affects front-end caster adversely.

In the book I stress the fact that front-end alignment, while so important these days, can't be blamed for everything that goes wrong with steering. Bald front tires will cause wandering. A pull one way or the other can be due to front tire treads that are not matched.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"In trying to check into the reason for insufficient power few motorists ever think to consider the fuel pump which may be lacking in capacity. One of my customers got excellent results from his car when it was new but as it lost efficiency and began using more gas the pump often could not make the grade. This was especially noticeable when trying to accelerate at higher speeds or when climbing long grades."

"Putting it another way we can see that if the fuel pump itself isn't kept up to par it may easily fail to deliver the amount of fuel the engine needs, even if the latter is right up to its original efficiency."

HEAT BRINGS LEANING
The poor idling of the engine when it has become a little on the feverish side can be due to too much expansion of the valve stems, thus causing one or more of the valves to hold slightly open, but a more likely cause is the fact that the mixture has become too lean. This follows as a result of the heat causing excessive expansion of the gas. It's a tip-off to get after the cause of overheating. Failure to get to the root of it may just be an expensive way of taking the detours.

Picked Up Enroute

Considerable trouble can be headed off by considering the use of superior parts, one fuel pump being guaranteed for 50,000 miles before diaphragm replacement is needed. . . . One of the improved ignition coils carries a 100,000 mile guarantee. . . . It ties in with the fact that some of the ignition coils of the day are due to too much current diversion. . . . Some of the latest models use as many as 38 lights as compared to 4 or 5 back in 1925. . . . The tire companies still urge their dealers to have tire men lubricate, inflate, deflate and re-inflate the inner tubes when installing them in tires. . . . In explaining how to get maximum gas mileage expert economy drivers strongly emphasize need for proper lubrication.

When a car skidded on a perfectly dry road, and the driver was not driving too fast at the time, many observers shook their heads in wonderment. But not an old timer. He decided that the car probably had a very weak rear spring. Inspection showed that the spring actually was broken.

Insurance Against Wear

Every now and again I receive one of those heated letters in which a motorist of long experience will insist that there is no need to change oil so often and that the only justification for the thousand-mile change is to sell oil. I believe it might clarify things a bit if I quoted from a recent reply of mine.

"There is," I wrote, "no better way to keep the engine clean than to change oil frequently. The filter plays its important role, but draining the crankcase adds that extra plus and also provides a way to get rid of diluent, especially in short-run driving in the cooler seasons. Oil silt is far cheaper than repairs, so if there is ever any question it would seem logical to favor the idea of using more oil. Regarding the sales angle, remember that in the 1000-mile period between oil changes the average motorist uses 70 gallons of gasoline and spends about $16 for it. The oil costs him about $2.40."

Fits Up With Age

It doesn't seem to occur to those who worry over the engine running too hot that as a car ages its original cooling capacity is reduced by heavy deposits of scale and sediment in the block and radiator. Here's how to tell if the engine is so handicapped:

Darin off the radiator, block and the hot water heater. Find out the car's original cooling capacity and add a quart of water to represent the capacity of the heater. Measure out this amount and then see if you can pour it all into the cooling system. The difference will represent the amount of sediment.

Having Their Troubles

Q. The engine of my car acts as if it doesn't get enough gas, but a check on the carburetor and fuel pump fail to show anything K. L. B.

A. I'm suspicious of the short flexible line between the main gas line and the fuel pump. It may be porous. This allows air to be sucked in.

Q. How can I time the engine when there is no peephole in the flywheel housing? L. M. B.

A. Timing marks on your car will be found on the vibration damper at the front end of the motor.

Q. I have had to use tar remover to take off road oil on the fenders of my car. They are now quite clean, but I am wondering about the effects of this on the wax. Wm. G.

A. You will need to wax these particular areas again. Q. I have been trying to find out why the engine of my car overheats since taking a long trip. The radiator has always been a little undersized for the car, but recently the motor is running too hot. Just had a brake adjustment. T. H. H.

A. Where a cooling system is just on the edge almost any little irregularity will cause it to go overboard. One of two of the brake drums on this car may be warped from too vigorous use of the brakes on the recent trip. Taking up on the brake shoes may thus be causing brake drag.

Q. There is a wandering miss in the engine which has me pretty well puzzled. I have replaced the spark plugs but things seem worse than before. I have never had any valve trouble with this engine and doubt if there is any stickage. What do you think of the possibility of very uneven compression? J. J. H.

A. Of course have a compression test taken, but the chances are that you are overtightening the metal cover over the spark plugs. This brings the metal too close to the tops of the plugs, causing shorting of high tension current.

Q. What would cause an annoying squeak in the clutch? I get this whenever I press the pedal down. L. McN.

A. This probably is due to need for a little lubricant on the bushings at the clutch pedal shaft. Use special rubber lubricant for this, not petroleum lube. Brake fluid is all right for this purpose.

Q. Is it true that a harder lining can be used on brakes where there is a power booster? R. L. E.

A. Yes. Actually modern brakes provide as much power as needed since there is no advantage beyond the point where the brakes lock. Action can be made very easy without power assistance, but engineers can take advantage of power to use harder, longer-wearing lining.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford, 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

BOOKS BY THE POUND:
In my youth I recall, that a bananas were sold six for a nickel.
Tomatoes and other varieties of vegetables and fruits were sold in the same manner—so much for so many. But today we buy most of these things by the pound. Not until recently, however, did I discover anyone selling books by the pound! Yet that is what happened.
A Washington book-shop—three floors of it—decided to liquidate and so offered most of its stock at 19 cents a pound. What a curious lot of authors were there, some still in their birthday jacksets. Many of the favorites of yesteryear, and many a modern, had their seats side by side. Kipling, Marked (signed by the author, marked five dollars) Stevenson,
H. G. Wells, G. A. Henty, Edith
Wharton, Rex Beach, Edna Ferber
Conan Doyle, MacKinley Kantor—and a multitude too numerous to "Love from M a m m a and P a pp a Christmas, 1887." "To a companion on a memorable journey to Chicago, with hopes for as happy a journey through life. Jack, 1898
Dickens, Mark Twain, Christopher Morley, even "Just Among Friends" by this writer. All at 19 cents a pound. Take your pick. All must go. "Yes, I know that one was a marked ten dollars at one time, but now it's nineteen cents a pound.
Sure it's a bargain!" The democracy of books. The great a and small all over the place, the snooty and the proud, the kindly and the inspiring, humorous and sober.

All quarrels in a book shop are silent ones. Their say has been said, and like lambs they are led to the slaughter—all three floors of them at 19 cents a pound. "Yes, two or more different authors can be put on the scales at a time." 19 cents the pound till all are sold.
Knowledge on the wing. Rich and poor treated exactly alike. No discrimination in a book-shop. Every shelf teeming with democracy.
And yet only 19 cents a pound to any purchaser. Poets, philosophers scientists, artists, musicians—all speak out in a book-shop. But this lovely little book, how much?
"Only five cents. It isn't enough for a pound!"

GOP Increases Lead In County:
The Republican majority in Adams County climbed to 1482 during the recent registration period, an increase of 346 over last spring's primary enrollment, while the number of voters in the county dwindled to 16,190, a drop of 1473 votes.
Those figures were contained in the lists of the number eligible to vote completed early Saturday af-

the staff of the National Cancer Institute.
It was the pretty little Florida-born, blonde's job at the FDA skin unit to "investigate many things that go into the human skin" for possible harmful reactions. This included beauty preparations, ointments, tooth pastes and such substances as those used in hair wave preparations, which she tested for toxicity.

"We put these things on the skin of rabbits," she told me, "because a rabbit's skin is most like that of a human — next to the domestic pig, which is impractical to have in a lab.
"It was part of our job to protect the public."
Single exposures of the haircurlier substances were put on the rabbit's back "like a permanent," then a little more to see if it was damaging. Finally repeated doses were given to see if the substance would hurt an operator giving it over and over again to different people.

The tooth paste was put on the rabbits to see whether the paste irritated the mucous membrane in the mouth. "This wasn't easy, because bunnies have only a few teeth, but someone would hold them firmly while I rubbed the paste on," Miss Freeman recalled.
"We used about three white rabbits at a time, and the same number for lipstick."

FACTORY WAGES
AT NEW PEAK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Average hourly wages of factory workers climbed to a record $1.77 last month just before the Korean truce was signed, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said today.
This was a 21 per cent gain over the pre-Korean war level. It included overtime and other premium pay.
All industries, BLS said, reported higher hourly earnings at the close of the fighting than three years earlier.
However, the biggest gains were scored in defense-related ordnance, primary metals and instrument industries.
The smallest gains were registered in the apparel, textiles, printing and publishing and tobacco industries, where there was little net change in employment.
Hourly earnings for factory production workers were 13 cents higher this July than at the same time a year ago.
The average work week in July safe, Miss Freeman said — although some didn't perform the miracles they were purported to.

Miss Freeman came here in 1942 as a secretary. She studied chemistry nights at George Washington University, where she has just earned her Ph.D.

pense statements under the lobby law.
The $2,377,000 they reported having spent on their "legislative interests" up to July 1 is slightly less than the $2,702,000 reported spent by approximately 500 lobbyists during the first six months of 1952.
The law contemplates listing expenditures for such things as public relations, office expense, wages and salaries, gifts, overhead, travel, food, lodging and entertainment.
However it is generally accepted on Capitol Hill that not all lobbyists are registered and not all expenditures reported.
Also, many expense reports are not itemized although the law says they should be.

Ted Williams Gets Homer, 3 Singles As Sox Beat Senators; Yanks Edge A's

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

He was about a month too late for the pennant race but Ted Williams is back from the Marines and the rest of the American League is finding it out the hard way.

His eye is sharp and the power is still there. His legs bother him a little but a little more practice now and a winter of careful conditioning probably will bring Williams up to next season as good as new.

Last night in Washington he had his best game so far. He hit a home run with two on base and three singles in four times up. The runs paved the way for a 7-3 Boston victory in the second game of a double-header. Washington won the first game, in which Williams didn't play, 9-1.

Beat As In 11 Innings

In other American League action the New York Yankees edged Philadelphia 5-4 in 11 innings. Chicago defeated Detroit 4-1, and Cleveland took two from St. Louis 7-3 and 3-2. The second game ran 12 innings.

Brooklyn's 13-game winning streak was broken by Pittsburgh, the most unlikely team in the league, 7-1. The last-place Pirates had lost 16 out of 17 to Brooklyn before last night's contest. Milwaukee nipped Chicago 5-4. St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 4-0, and Philadelphia edged New York 7-6.

Murry Dickson celebrated his 37th birthday by spacing seven Brooklyn hits for his ninth victory. Frank Thomas drove in four Pittsburgh runs with a home run and a double. The victory string that was snapped was the longest of the season in the National League.

Eddie Gets His 39th
Eddie Mathews hit his 39th home run, a club record, as Milwaukee's Lew Burdette won his 12th game against two losses. Don Liddle helped out in the ninth when Chicago rallied for three runs.

Harvey Haddix, pitching his first full season for the Cardinals, scattered four hits in winning his 16th game.

The Giants' pitching fell apart, as it has been in the habit of doing, in the seventh inning and the Phils came from behind with three runs. Jim Hearn, who was protecting a 6-4 lead, gave up at the start of the inning with an aching side. Hoyt Wilhelm, Dave Koslo and Al Worthington followed him with Koslo taking the loss.

Finished Under Protest
Alex Kellner pitched his way out of a ninth-inning jam in which the Yankees loaded the bases and scored one run with nobody out. But Charlie Silvera drove a pinch-hit single to center with runners on second and third in the 11th for the winning run. Bob Kuzava, who pitched the last two innings, picked up the victory, his fifth, and ran his string of scoreless innings to 20. The game was played under protest by Philadelphia from the ninth inning when Manager Jimmy Dykes was tossed out for arguing.

MONTREAL (AP)—Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., is five strokes behind leader Jerry Barber, La Canda, Calif., going into today's third round of the 72-hole $25,000 open golf championship.

Wall's 36-hole total of 137 put him in a three-way tie for 11th with Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., and Ted Rhodes, Chicago. He shot a 71 yesterday.

Barber posted a 68 for a 132 score at the halfway point of the tournament.

If they never again had to face pitcher Ed Moeller of the Scranton Miners, it still would be too soon for the Eastern League Albany Senators.

The right-hander beat the Senators twice last night as the Miners copped both ends of a doubleheader, 3-0 and 3-2. Moeller shut out Albany in the first game and held the home club to four hits in four innings of relief work in the second.

The Schenectady Blue Jays scored four times in the 12th inning to down the Wilkes-Barre Barons, 10-6, at Wilkes-Barre. The Binghamton Triplets squeaked past the Williamsport Athletics, 2-1, and the league-leading Reading Indians cuffed the Elmira Pioneers, 7-0 and 8-5.

Last Inning Rally Gives Bream Garagemen 13-4 Win; Title Contest On Monday

Erupting for 11 runs in a wild final inning, the Glenn L. Bream Garage softball team came from behind to defeat the VFW 13-4 Friday evening to deadlock the Softball League title series at two games each.

The championship game has been scheduled for Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Until the seventh frame Friday night it appeared the league would have a new softball playoff champion as the Vets led 4-2 at the end of six frames.

Frazer opened the seventh with a double. After Fair grounded out, Altomero singled Frazer home. R. Kitzmiller walked and G. Kitzmiller singled to push Altomero over with the tying run. G. Kitzmiller was safe on an error as R. Kitzmiller scooted over with the lead run.

Game Becomes Rout

The game then became a complete rout. Toddes walked after which Kennell skied out. A hit batsman, two more miscues, a single and Scis are attending at national key produced the remaining runs.

The Vets tabbed a run in the first inning when Staub singled Fazenbaker across. Another run in the second resulted on a single by Kebil, wild pitch, and single by Hoak.

After the Garagemen picked up a run in the third on a walk to Toddes, sacrifice, and hits by G. Hankey and Frazer, the Vets came back with a pair in their half. Little walked and Fazenbaker was saved on an error.

Little tallied on a wild pitch and Fazenbaker scored later on Buckley's fly to the outfield.

Singles by G. Kitzmiller and Toddes and an error gave the winners a tally in the fourth.

SCHOOLS

SCHOOL ART EXHIBIT INFORMATION

South Mountain Fair—September 8-12, 1953
Adams County Fair—August 11-15, 1953

A. Schools are invited to exhibit at the Adams County Fair, so as to be represented in that locality of the county. Your exhibit material should be sent or taken to Miss Mary Elder, Abbotstown, or Mrs. Miriam Walker, New Oxford, by May 28, 1953.

B. In regards to the South Mountain Fair:
1. Each school system should be responsible for placing their own art exhibit at the fair. Space will be assigned and indicated by markers on the morning prior to the fair's opening evening.
2. In as much as efforts seem to fail as far as being able to set up a limit on the number of renderings (because lack of space continues to be a problem, as well as the size of the various types of renderings) no stated limit will be fixed. It can again only be pointed out that continued effort should be made to create a more tasteful exhibit of your work. This is indeed true since the rating of the exhibit is not only on the work of the students, but the presentation of it by the school.
Efforts will be made to obtain more space by requesting the entire use of the school exhibits building.
3. All renderings must be marked clearly and appearing with convenience for the judges. The student's name and grade are required. Crafts should be marked with tags.
4. Ribbons will be awarded within each school system. The system of A, B, and C rating will be followed as before, with the following prize scale:

A ratings—$16.00
B ratings—$14.00
C ratings—$12.00

In Memoriam 3

FLICKINGER: In sad but loving remembrance of my granddaughter, Mrs. Minnie Flickinger, who departed this life four years ago today. The precious one from us has gone; The voice we loved is still. The place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled. The midnight stars are beaming Upon her lonely grave. Where she sleeps without waking. The one we could not save. Sadly missed by her grandma, MRS. CHARLES E. COOK AND FAMILY

IKE GIVES IN TO BROILED TROUT AND FISHING ROD

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (P)—Taking hold of a trout rod casts a sort of spell over President Eisenhower, sore elbow and all.

The President and a party of friends spent yesterday at the Bal Swan Ranch about 50 miles southwest of Denver.

Five members of the group fished all morning, but Eisenhower stayed away from the South Platte River because of a sore elbow which developed a week ago after a day of casting for trout.

"It's nothing serious and it's coming along all right," Dr. Howard M. Snyder, the President's physician, told reporters. But anyway, Eisenhower decided not to aggravate the soreness.

He managed all right until after a lunch of fried and broiled trout and roasted corn, which he cooked over an outdoor fire. But then, as he shed his white apron, some of the others started a bit of practice casting about 300 yards from the creek.

That was too much for fisherman Eisenhower. The next moment he was flicking a dry fly with an expert touch, but still a long way from the creek.

Then suddenly he was on his way to the stream, a big smile on his face.

"You know," he chuckled, "I was all right until somebody put a rod in my hand."

JOAN DEMPSEY TO WED

O'Flaherty is a student at Loyola University, Los Angeles.

About three-fourths of all farm work in the United States is done by farmers and their families and only one-fourth by hired help.
